RESIDENTS SAY NO TO FRACKING

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A GROUP of Witney residents have delivered a 267,000 signature petition at Downing Street urging Prime Minister David Cameron to rethink his support for fracking.

Constituents of Mr Cameron and environmental campaigners handed it over last Wednesday.

A second petition against fracking signed exclusively by Witney residents was also submitted after Mr Cameron last month said he would be "very happy" to see fracking in the town.

After delivering the petitions, campaigners stood outside Number 10 holding placards spelling out the number of people who had signed it.

Just over 400 people signed the second petition in protest of the Witney MP's comments, which were said in a House of Commons Liaison Committee debate about fracking.

And it comes after Greenpeace activists turned Mr Cameron's home in West Oxfordshire into a mock fracking site last summer in protest at the government's fracking plans.

4,450 home plans for Valley Park submitted

AN APPLICATION to build almost 4,500 new homes next to Great Western Park in Didcot has been submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council.

The plans would see 4,450 houses built in the parish of Harwell on land to the west of Great Western Park, as well as the construction of community facilities, schools and sports pitches.

It comes after initial plans announced last year by developers Hallam Land Management, Taylor Wimpey and Persimmon were for 2,550 homes – almost 2,000 less.

And concerns have been raised

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

that the proposed housing figure is too high for the site, and fears that the development would come too close to the village of Harwell.

The density of housing on the site has also been questioned, with an average of 40 houses per hectare being proposed.

Reg Waite, district councillor for Harwell, said: "I'm not happy."

"In fact so many people are disappointed because it did start off at a much lower figure."

"The residents of Harwell would love to have seen a gap from when one goes over the A34 so there was a distance between the village and Valley Park."

"One thing we are concerned about is the density of houses, and that is something we will be taking forward."

"It is disappointing, but nevertheless houses are required in the Vale desperately, and at the moment the demand is such that house prices and rent are really far too high."

Taylor Wimpey were unavailable for comment as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to press.

However the developers' introduction to their planning proposals said that Valley Park would "provide a number of key facilities that will serve the new community".

It continued: "It will be a distinctive development in its own right that will have a unique sense of place that builds on its inherent assets – its existing topography, ecology, footpaths and lanes."

"It will have a number of character areas that take their inspiration from adjoining towns and villages, but with a feel that reflects the area's status as a UK centre for enterprise and innovation."

Record number of health changes proposed

• Paramedic care in the city centre on weekend evenings is one of the recommendations taken on board

MORE than 40 changes to the way health and social care services are provided in Oxfordshire are underway after being recommended by watchdog Healthwatch.

A report published on Tuesday by Healthwatch showed a record 44 changes to the Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group and Oxfordshire County Council were taken on board.

These included the roll-out of mental health services in schools, the introduction of paramedic care in the city centre on weekend evenings, and steps to improve access to interpretation and translation services.

Other recommendations are to support access to social care by ethnic minority communities, and plans to increase community support services for people with learning disabilities.

Rachel Coney, CEO of Healthwatch Oxfordshire, said: "We would like to thank service commissioners and providers across the county for taking patients' views seriously."

"I hope that being able to announce success on this scale will really give the public confidence that talking to us can make a difference."

"Healthwatch is also pressing for an improvement in waiting times for child and adolescent mental health services."

"We will also be working much more closely with hospitals on issues around hospital discharge and dignity in care, and we look forward to these projects yielding results in a year's time."

Burglary link

BOTLEY AND CUMNOR: Police are appealing for witnesses after three burglaries were reported in Botley and Cumnor last week.

The first took place between 2pm last Thursday and 12.45am the following day in Stone Close, where offenders broke in through the rear door and stole jewellery.

The second was in Turnpike Road in Cumnor between 5.30pm and 8.30pm on Thursday, when thieves broke in through an unsecured door and took cash and foreign currency.

And the third was on the same road in Cumnor, between 3.30pm on Thursday and 1pm on Friday, when cash was stolen.

Police believe the burglaries are linked.

Anyone with information is being urged to call the police non-emergency phone number on 101.

Longer hours

STANFORD-IN-THE-VALE: The Post Office branch in High Street is set to open for an extra 67 hours a week from next month.

From February 16, the branch will be open Monday to Saturday from 6.30am to 11pm, and on Sundays from 8am to 10pm.

The branch will temporarily close on February 14 over the weekend to carry out refurbishment work.

Post Office area manager Alan Ridoutt said of the refurbishment: "We are confident this vibrant new style Post Office at the heart of the community will be popular."

Prison suicides

BICESTER: Two convicts committed suicide while serving time at Bullingdon Prison, near Bicester, during 2014, according to national figures.

Statistics compiled by charity the Howard League for Penal Reform also suggest overcrowding at the county's only prison.

Only 879 of the 1,114 prisoners are being held in what is described as 'decent and safe accommodation'.

Tax rise proposed for Oxfordshire's residents

COUNCIL tax bills look set to rise for residents across the county after Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet recommended an increase of almost two per cent.

The cabinet voted at its meeting on Tuesday to put forward its budget to full council, which includes a rise to its annual rates of 1.99 per cent.

With yearly rates for a band D property currently at £1,232.46, the proposed increase would add an extra £24.50 to bills.

Other recommendations included allocating £500,000 to proceed with the preliminary design of the Didcot Northern Perimeter Road to link the A4130 Abingdon Road and B4016 junction to the A4130 and Hadden Hill junction.

This would be funded through Section 106 money – given to a council by property developers to help develop community infrastructure.

An increase of £364,000 to the budget to upgrade Frideswide Square in Oxford ahead of work starting on the site next month was also approved by the cabinet.

County councillors are scheduled to discuss the proposed budget at their upcoming meeting on February 17, where a final decision will be made on the budget for April 2015 to 2016.

Hundreds protest against rural development at rally

MORE than 300 people gathered in Witney on Saturday as part of a protest against the rise in number of housing developments across Oxfordshire.

The Rural Oxfordshire Action Rally (ROAR) saw residents, community groups, councillors and guest speakers concerned about increasing rural development campaigning at Church Green.

It comes after figures published last year in Oxfordshire's Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) said that 100,000 new homes were needed across the county by 2031.

"There was a really good turnout," said Lewis Owens, organiser of the rally.

"Judging by conversations and feedback from everybody that attended, it was worthwhile in that people are mobilised, and we've seen a huge peak on our website and Facebook as well."

He added: "There's a loophole in the National Planning Policy Framework that if a council doesn't have a five-year housing plan, then it is open season for developers to start targeting sites all over the country.

"It's particularly acute in Oxfordshire and West Oxfordshire simply because the land value and house prices are some of the most unaffordable, so developers benefit from maximising that value."

Helen Marshall, director of Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) Oxfordshire, was one of a number of guest speakers at the rally.

She said: "Many of our local communities are having to deal with large-scale inappropriate developments."

"The government needs to help our local authorities stand up to well-funded developers who are inflating the housing numbers and intimidating councils into giving overriding weight to these numbers, rather than the greener parts of national planning policy."

Peter Jay, chairman of ROAR, added: "People are both sad to see their rural areas under such threat, and furious that their voices are not being heard.

"We would like to see widespread consensus that national planning rules will be reviewed after the general election."

ROAR has also said after Saturday's success they are looking at holding similar rallies in Abingdon and Wantage on dates to be decided.

Driver punched

CARTERTON: A 37-year-old woman was punched in the face while she was stopped in her car at the junction of Black Bourton Road and Wycombe Way last Tuesday.

At around 2.20pm, a man cycled up to her car, spoke to the victim and punched her through an open car window.

He was described as white, in his 50s, around 5ft 10ins tall, slim, with short hair and spoke with an Oxfordshire accent.

Call 101 with information.

£500 donation

WEST OXON: Oxford children's hospice Helen & Douglas House has received a £500 donation from the Ahmadiyya Muslim community following a recommendation from West Oxfordshire District Council chairman Norman MacRae.

The Ahmadiyya has been giving away 100 separate donations of £500 to charities across the country.

Cllr MacRae was one of those contacted to choose a recipient.

He said: "We are extremely grateful for this very generous donation and I feel very honoured to be in a position to pass it on to one of our very worthy causes here in Oxfordshire."

Time to Talk

WEST OXON: The district council is hosting a 'Time to Talk' day next Thursday to give people a chance to talk about mental illness.

Information, advice and the opportunity for a friendly chat will be available to visitors at the council's offices in New Yatt Road, Witney, from 10am to 2pm.

Witney campaigners hand anti-fracking petition to PM

• From front page

Witney resident Chris Tatton, who delivered the petition, said: "David Cameron may be very happy about having fracking on his doorstep but millions of people across Britain are seriously concerned about it, and for good reasons too."

"Ministers are handing over more than half of the country to a risky and unproven industry despite dwindling public support, weak regulations, and growing evidence of its harmful impacts.

"Political leaders from New York to Berlin have already banned fracking - now it's our government's turn to put caution and the welfare of our communities before the interests of the shale lobby."

Fracking is the process of drilling underground to access shale gas, which can be used as fuel. But there are concerns it pollutes water underground and causes small earthquakes.

On Monday, the government rejected a bid to suspend fracking for 30 months to allow an assessment to be carried out by 308 votes to 52.

The government's Environmental Audit Committee had tabled the motion as they warned there were 'uncertainties' about the environmental impact of fracking.

David Cameron had not responded to the Oxfordshire Guardian's request for a comment as it went to press.

Sports centre set to be named in Acer's honour

OXFORD University will name its new sports centre in Iffley Road after the late Olympic rower and scholar Acer Nethercott, it was announced this week.

Acer won silver at the 2008 Olympics in Beijing and coxed three Oxford crews to victory in the Boat Race between 2000 and 2005, while also receiving a first class degree in physics and philosophy from the university.

The announcement was made on Monday, two years to the day since the 35-year-old died of brain cancer.

The new sports centre will be the first building in a £60million redevelopment of the university's Iffley Road complex, which is expected to be completed next year.

Glynis Evans, Acer's mother, said: "The idea of naming the new sports centre building after Acer is awesome.

"It is a source of comfort, as well as one of huge pride, to continue to hear of Acer's lasting impact and I am deeply touched

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

that the new sports centre will be named after him."

Andrew Triggs-Hodge, Acer's rowing teammate for Oxford and Great Britain, added: "Acer always strove hard, no matter what he was aiming for.

"I knew him through his endeavour to be the best cox he could be, a restless mission of self-improvement.

"Through the gifts towards the Acer Nethercott Sports Hall he will be remembered as a role model, the role he felt was most rewarding."

The new sports centre will increase the space for more than 80 clubs and members.

Subsequent phases of the project will include an indoor tennis centre, a combined rugby and rowing training centre, and a grandstand incorporating a cricket school.

Professor Andrew Hamilton, vice-chancellor of Oxford University, added: "We are delighted to name our new sports centre building after Acer Nethercott.

"Acer was the model of a scholar-athlete as he not only achieved incredible sporting success but also excelled in his studies at Oxford, gaining a first and a doctorate in the philosophy of language."

New hotel on the way

PLANNERS are in "advanced discussions" to build a four-star hotel at the Milton Gate development on the outskirts of Didcot.

The Oxfordshire Guardian previously reported that a hotel was top of the wish list for the nine-acre site.

Property investment and development company MEPC, which also runs Milton Park, owns the land off the A4130.

Philip Campbell, head of Asset Management at MEPC, said: "MEPC is in advanced discussions for a four-star hotel with conference facilities at Milton Gate and hopes to be in position to make a formal announcement in the coming weeks.

"A recent report by South and Vale district councils concluded that there is a real need for further overnight accommodation in this area.

"The new Milton Gate hotel will help address this issue and be a further amenity for the businesses at Milton Park and others in the region."

A Harvester restaurant and MM Bellinger & Sons car dealership will open at the site this year, while coffee chain Costa Coffee and car dealership Ridgeway Volkswagen are already open for business.

Council services

SOUTH OXON: South Oxfordshire District Council is reminding residents to only get in touch if they have an urgent enquiry.

The council's planning department has been most affected by the fire and a fortnight's delay is expected in deciding applications.

Shoplifting

KIDLINGTON: Police have released a picture of a man they want to speak to in connection with shoplifting at the Sainsbury's store in Oxford Road.

At 3.20pm on January 12, two men entered the shop and stole a large number of bottles and spirits.

Anyone with information is asked to call PC Rob Bull of Bicester police station on 101.

A34 closures in force as Milton work begins

• A drawing of how the completed work at Milton Interchange will look

NIGHT-TIME closures are now in force at Milton Interchange as the next stage of an £11million project on the junction began on Monday.

Preparatory work is underway on the A34 ahead of the start of continuous roadworks from February 16 to carry out the project over the coming months.

This includes installing CCTV, altering lane markings, removing permanent safety barriers and constructing a hardened crossover.

From February 16 onwards, traffic travelling south will be subject to a 30mph speed limit,

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

with the left lane being diverted down the slip road, around the roundabout and back up onto the A34.

A 40mph limit will be in force on the northbound carriageway, while one of the lanes on the A4130 roundabout will be closed off.

Work at the interchange is expected to finish early next year.

David Nimmo Smith, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet

member for transport, said: "The next phase of traffic management will undoubtedly have an effect on traffic."

"The good news is that the arrangements will maintain two lanes of traffic on the A34, although there will be lower speed limits and a short diversion off the A34 for some."

"We are doing this work now to ensure that the junction has the capacity to cope with the demands of traffic in the future."

"I know that knowing this is unlikely to help anyone who is affected by delays to their journeys in the coming months, but by carrying out the work now, we are safeguarding against regular delays in the future."

Work also started on Monday at Featherbed Lane in Milton Hill and at Hagbourne Hill, both of which are expected to last for nine weeks.

Featherbed Lane is now shut between the A417 Wantage Road and the A4130 Abingdon Road, while Hagbourne Hill is closed from the A417 to Townsend in Chilton.

This is so resurfacing, strengthening the edge of the carriageways, and drainage works can be carried out.

Pro golfer Tony retires

ONE of the world's longest-serving golf professionals is calling time on his career after more than half a century working at Oxford Golf Club.

Tony Rees is set to retire on Saturday after 56 years with the club, and having been the venue's head professional for the past 49 years.

A golf-mad teenager, Tony began caddying aged 15 in Coventry before making the move to Oxford four years later.

"I'd always dreamt of a career in golf," said Tony. "That was all I wanted to do when I was at school."

"I remember walking into the club for the first time and immediately being impressed with how everything was run and just how friendly the members were."

"I wouldn't have believed it if you'd told me I would be there for quite this long, purely because I didn't realise at the time I was going to enjoy it as much as I have done."

Despite his imminent retirement, Tony admitted he won't be giving up golf completely, but will be spending more time with his grandchildren.

Growth deal sees £108m signed over to Oxfordshire

A GOVERNMENT investment of more than £100million to create 6,000 jobs and 4,000 homes across Oxfordshire was officially signed at Abingdon and Witney College last Thursday.

Minister for Universities and Science Greg Clark and Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP) vice chairman Ian Wenman signed the Oxfordshire Growth Deal, which will see £108.6m given to the county over the next six years.

Money will also be used for improvements to infrastructure, including funding for flood prevention measures and transport schemes, as well as building skills centres at Abingdon and City of Oxford colleges.

A total of £15.7m has been confirmed for 2015/16, with the rest being delivered by 2021.

Mr Clark said: "We've taken money that was in the hands of central government and made it available for good projects in local places proposed by the leaders of those places."

"Boosting engineering skills, investment in improving the roads, investing in innovation – there's a lot of locally based investment from this £108m."

The Oxfordshire Growth Deal was first announced back in July, and comes after £1.2billion was awarded as part of the Oxford City Deal last January.

Ian Hudspeth, leader of Oxfordshire County Council, said: "It's great news, it's recognition that government looks at us as a growth county in getting the funding for infrastructure.

"It's obviously vital for the county because everybody knows the issues around the infrastructure, but also the skills because we've got to create these jobs."

He continued: "We need the skilled workforce coming in, and it's not just about the high-tech jobs, it's about creating jobs for all levels because we need the back-up to encourage that growth in Oxfordshire."

The Growth Deal is part of a £12bn programme by government to provide a funding boost for local economies nationwide.

Oxfordshire LEP is currently working with businesses and council leaders in the county to discuss additional funding for projects.

Details of specific projects are expected later in the year.

Windrush Leisure Centre unveils new play area

A NEW soft play area was officially opened at Windrush Leisure Centre last Thursday following a £70,000 investment from West Oxfordshire District Council.

The new area has been built in the former upstairs bar, and features climbing equipment and slides for children up to the age of seven.

Rhian Davies, of Witney, brought her three-year-old son Nicholas to play with the new equipment last week.

She said: "There isn't anything else like this near the centre of town, so it's good to have it here. Nicholas really enjoyed it."

It was opened by Richard Langridge, the council's cabinet member with responsibility for sports and leisure, last Thursday.

He said: "I am sure this new area will be welcomed by children and their families, providing a safe, colourful and exciting environment for some of our youngest leisure centre users."

"We continually strive to invest and improve in our leisure facilities, to ensure they provide good facilities and services for all users."

Peter Cheeseman, general manager of the centre's operator Better, added: "We are delighted to be able to offer a new soft play area for local children to enjoy."

"It will provide a new fun safe environment for parents to take their children."

Celebrity chef set to open city restaurant

• Marco Pierre White will open a new restaurant at the Mercure Oxford Eastgate Townhouse

CELEBRITY chef Marco Pierre White will open a new Italian-American inspired restaurant in the centre of Oxford next month.

Marco's New York Italian will be unveiled at the Mercure Oxford Eastgate Townhouse in the High Street on February 12.

It takes over from the High Table Brasserie and Bar at a building steeped in Oxford history.

The townhouse was built on the site of a 17th century coaching inn and is said to be where author C.S. Lewis proposed to his girlfriend.

J.R.R. Tolkien, another author embedded within the city's history, lived nearby and dined at the hotel.

Mr Pierre White's restaurant will serve the chef's take on American-Italian food, including fresh pasta, steaks, seafood, burgers and handmade pizzas.

The restaurant will be a part of the Mercure Oxford Eastgate Hotel in High Street.

It will be run as a franchise of Marco's New York Italian after a deal was struck with trading company Black and White Franchising.

Work has already started and hotel manager Peter Watt said: "The presence of a Marco Pierre White restaurant will bring an exciting new vibe to the hotel."

"It will sit well with those looking to do business in a relaxed setting, as well as visitors taking in the many attractions that are right on our doorstep."

Nick Taplin, chairman of Black and White Franchising, added: "The idea behind this restaurant is to create an environment where people can sit and enjoy their life."

"It is all about providing a place where people can go for some good, wholesome food and a nice bottle of wine in a relaxed, affordable and friendly setting."

"We want people to come here and make their visit as formal or informal, expensive or inexpensive as they wish."

It will be Mr Pierre White's first restaurant in Oxford, joining fellow celebrity chefs Jamie Oliver and Raymond Blanc in setting up eateries in the city.

Travel chaos needs solving

THOUSANDS of my constituents commute in and out of Oxford every day, many choosing public transport to avoid congestion on our local roads.

Like the many commuters who use our railways daily, I welcome the new rail projects underway across my constituency, including East West Rail Phase 1, upgrading the line between Oxford and Bicester; the new Oxford Parkway Station at Water Eaton, and electrification of the Great Western Mainline, all of which will improve links between Oxford and other large cities such as London.

But despite all of this investment it is disappointing that, still, residents face daily delays and uncertainty about how they will get to work and when they will get home to their families.

I share my constituents' frustration in experiencing delay after delay, with no explanation as to what the problem is and when it will be fixed.

As we saw over the Christmas period, 'planned engineering works' often do not go as planned and can cause commuter chaos.

Even without pre-planned engineering projects, First Great Western services between Oxford and Paddington are delayed almost on a daily basis. This is simply not good enough, and customer satisfaction levels are at an all-time low.

As with all infrastructure development, it has to work for the local community.

That is why I am working hard with local residents, the city council and Network Rail to ensure effective mitigation is delivered as promised.

Welcome to Ford Logs

FORD logs are a leading producer of quality dry firewood based in Southern Oxfordshire and despite being a small company, we're a friendly company that are here to help you.

We specialise in producing quality dry Beech and Ash logs for woodburners, open fires and fire pits and despite being based in South Oxfordshire, we deliver all over Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Wiltshire.

Unlike our competitors, we do not use other mixed hardwoods and to give the consumer peace of mind that a quality product will be received, all of our logs are inspected before being loaded onto our vehicles.

Our firewood is UK sourced (ideally within a 40 mile radius of our yard) from local estates, Parklands, Managed Forests, local arborists and our own tree surgery business, with all of our wood being well seasoned and barn stored.

Beech and Ash produce greater BTU's therefore generating a longer burn, generating a greater heat source and saving you money.

Quality control is taken seriously within Fordlogs, knowing that the wood you receive is at its optimum and ready to burn.

All of our wood is constantly monitored with moisture reading devices, with no wood leaving the yard above 22% moisture content (unless specified).

All of our logs are delivered loosely and not off loaded 'Roadside'. We can tip very close to where the logs are to be stacked.

We also offer a professional Stacking service if required at very competitive rate.

Simply fill in the contact form via our website with your enquiry, or alternatively call us to discuss your individual requirements.

We specialise and offer quality well seasoned Beech and Ash logs that won't disappoint you.

Primarily as a landscaping company, we can guarantee a quality product, as we don't rely on logs as our main source of income.

We also offer quality low m/c Kindling, which is neatly packed in small bags (for ease in starting fires). We offer a complete stacking service starting from £10.00.

For more information you can visit www.fordlogs.co.uk or contact us on 07880 690 925, 01367 718 551 and at logs@fordlogs.co.uk.

In addition with that, you can visit our sister site for all your landscaping, design and grounds management requirements. Visit www.fordlandscaping.co.uk

Man jailed after £10k haul of drugs found

A MAN has been sentenced to six years in prison after a mix of crack, heroin and cocaine worth £10,000 was discovered in a house in Oxford.

Ian Hunter, 37, of Prideaux Road in London, was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on January 16.

He pleaded guilty to possession with intent to supply the drugs and to possession of criminal property.

Hunter was arrested on January 20 last year after two officers saw Hunter acting suspiciously while driving a silver car in St Martin's Road, Oxford, which he then abandoned and walked away from.

He was stopped and initially denied being with the car, despite having the keys on him.

• Ian Hunter

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The car was then searched and class A drugs were found in the centre console and nearby to the car where Hunter had walked, and he was subsequently arrested.

Hunter then tried to run away, before officers caught him on Ashhurst Way.

Police then searched a house in Wynbush Road where the car had been registered to, where they found a substantial amount of crack cocaine mixed with heroin and cocaine, worth in the region of £10,000.

A total of £6,000 in cash was also found on top of the fridge.

A woman who was living at the house, 35-year-old Angela Williams, was also arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply class A drugs, after she was found to have £49,950 in cash in her handbag.

She was found guilty at a trial last November, and sentenced on the same day as Hunter to 12 months in prison suspended for two years, a four month curfew, and ordered to pay £1,750 in costs.

Power station set for further demolition

• Didcot A Power Station's southern cooling towers were demolished last July (picture by Les Chase)

THERE will be further demolition works at Didcot A Power Station this year, energy company RWE npower has revealed.

Didcot's three southern cooling towers were demolished last July and the coal yard was cleared in November.

External outdoor air systems connecting the chimney to the main power station, as well as fuel oil tanks, have also been removed from the site.

And during the summer contractors Coleman & Company will explosively demolish the main power station buildings.

RWE npower spokesperson Kelly Brown said: "The current plan is to use explosive demolition on the main station buildings in summer 2015."

"The already established consultation process will determine the best date and time for these activities to ensure the safety of everyone involved."

The northern cooling towers and chimney will be toppled during spring and summer next year and demolition is expected to be completed by September 2016.

So far over 20,000 tonnes of scrap metal and 36,000 tonnes of concrete have been processed and recycled from the power station site.

Day 3: Today we have a circular tour around the centre of the Lake District National Park passing Rydal Water, Grasmere Lake, Esthwaite Waters and Conistone Water along the way and stopping at some of the well-known towns including Grasmere, Ambleside, Hawkshead and Conistone.

Day 4: A trip into the nearby Yorkshire Dales National Park. We travel first to Carnforth for a short stop at the painstakingly restored Carnforth train station - the setting for the famous 1946 film 'Brief Encounter' - check out the station buffet - restored to the original 1940's style. We continue on to Settle and board a train on the famous Settle to Carlisle line. This journey, arguably the best train trip in England meanders through Pennine moorland scenery and over spectacular viaducts. We leave the train at the pretty market town of Appleby-in-Westmorland and rejoin the coach and travel back to our hotel through the scenic Vale of Lune.

Day 5: A last, hearty 'Cumbrian' breakfast - it's time to go home.

Undiscovered London

You'll see some of London's remarkable but lesser-known historic gems and stay on a Billionaire's Yacht in the Thames...

Price includes: Coach, Hotel, Breakfast, entrance and tour Tower of London. Entrance to Golden Hinde and the Charterhouse. S.S. £35

Coach departs: Sun 16th Aug £159

LOOK WHAT'S INCLUDED...

Day 1: Meet our coach this morning as we make our way to London. On arrival you'll spend some time in Greenwich - a lovely but little-visited place with lots to see and do. After Greenwich its time to check into our floating hotel. A luxury Stateroom aboard a fabulous Yacht awaits you. London's latest deluxe hotel is a floating Palace. 138 spacious guest rooms along with an elegant reception area, bar, lounge and fine-dining restaurant have been created over 5 floors on board The Sunborn Yacht which is now permanently moored in one of the city's most affluent commercial areas.

Welcome aboard this unique and thrilling place to stay! You should then have ample free time to check-in, relax, familiarise yourself and maybe get something to eat. The Yacht has a restaurant and there are many options to eat nearby within walking distance. This evening we visit the Tower of London and enjoy a guided tour by a Beefeater before we witness the ancient ritual of the 'Ceremony of the Keys'. This 700 year-old tradition takes place every night and our group will be allowed to escort the Chief Yeoman Warder as he locks up the home of the Crown Jewels. The same wording has been used every night for the past 700 years.

Day 2: Full English breakfast is included before we leave the Yacht around 9am and make our way to Pickford Wharf on the Thames near London Bridge to visit a full scale, fully working replica of Sir Francis Drake's Golden Hinde - the English Galleon he used to circumnavigate the Globe. After the Golden Hinde - a few hundred yards away is Borough Market in Southwark Street - a great place to have a wander and have a spot of lunch.

For our final, and again surprising experience in London we head across the river to an historic complex of ancient buildings known as The Charterhouse. A calm oasis within a hectic capital city, dating back to the 14th Century, in 1611 it became an Almshouse and it remains as such to this day. The Charterhouse is a charming, delightful and unexpected 'find' in central London.

Note: Due to the nature of the Golden Hinde this tour is not suitable for persons with mobility problems.

County's helicopters ready for Afghanistan

UPGRADED helicopters developed in Kidlington are set to be deployed to Afghanistan within the next few weeks following the completion of a £260million government contract.

Airbus Helicopters, based at London Oxford Airport, had been tasked with improving 24 Puma helicopters for the Ministry of Defence (MoD) to extend their lifespan.

The five-year contract was completed last year, and saw all of the major components replaced on the helicopters as part of a modernisation project.

And secretary of state for defence Michael Fallon was at their Oxford Airport headquarters last Thursday to tour the facility and see the work that they had done.

He said: "What I've seen here is the Puma extension that's been done to upgrade the Puma for its operations in Afghanistan.

"Work's also being done here to upgrade helicopters to ensure we're able to deploy people very quickly if there's a terrorist outbreak in Britain.

"This is an example of the frontline defence, spending more on defence and putting money in to create high-value jobs."

Almost 200 people are employed by Airbus at Oxford Airport, with 440 of their helicopters flying in the UK today.

Colin James, managing director of Airbus Helicopters, said: "We've spent five years putting that project into reality, and delivering last year the entry to service.

"Because Oxford is our headquarters, we have people from the local area, and we provide work for other companies here at the airport.

"The company here creates 200 jobs, and probably the same again in terms of the work we create for things such as engineering, maintenance, that sort of thing."

Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood invited Mr Fallon to visit Airbus last week.

She said: "We've got some very important work going on here with the Pumas, making sure we have these helicopters combat ready for our troops.

"I wanted the secretary of state to come and see the work being done here, and for the employees and apprentices working here to explain the importance of the work they are doing.

She continued: "Airbus is a major employer in my constituency, and I think that's a very valuable contribution to our community."

Councils' role in the community

THE last couple of weeks have given me cause to reflect on the value of the services that councils provide to the community.

The terrible fire at South Oxfordshire District Council's offices didn't only destroy the property and displace 400 workers from their usual routine, the disruption to services has the potential to impact people's lives, as the council provides emergency support in areas such as housing.

It has been heartening to see all those involved in local government putting their political differences to one side to offer the hand of friendship and support to colleagues at SODC.

In Wallingford the link between the council and the local community is vital, and we always welcome local residents to our meetings.

Recent speakers have included Martin Thompson and Gareth Lloyd Jones, who gave an update on the Beacon Youth Project; Tom Fox on the work of the Citizens Advice Bureau; and Mark Brett of the 1155 club which organises the fireworks and raised over £8,000 for local charities and organisations.

We also awarded grants to other local groups including Home Start, GirlGuiding and the Oxfordshire Association for the Blind.

In May there will be an election for the 16 councillors who make up Wallingford Town Council.

Many of our existing councillors will be standing down, and we need more people to come forward to support our most local level of government.

It is important that councils have councillors who not only reflect and represent the communities they serve, but also have a broad range of skills and life experience.

If you would like to explore this further, please contact me or any member of the council, or come along to one of our meetings to see how it all works - we meet on a Monday evening at 6.30pm. The schedule of meetings can be found at wallingfordtc.co.uk.

High court judge rejects Oxford Stadium appeal

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD'S greyhound stadium will remain a conservation area after a high court judge threw out an appeal by the site's owners last Thursday.

Greyhound Racing Association (GRA) Acquisition Limited's appeal was dismissed by Mr Justice Ouseley at the Royal Courts of Justice in London on January 22.

Oxford City Council designated Oxford Stadium in Sandy Lane as a conservation area in April last year - making it harder for developers to get permission to knock it down for housing.

GRA Acquisition Ltd had planned to sell the site to developers Galliard Homes but the city council turned down an application for 220 homes in January 2014.

Oxford East MP Andrew Smith said he hoped the stadium's owners would now see sense.

He added: "This is a massive boost for the campaign to save the stadium."

"The site owners should now face facts and feel in with the clear wish of local people, which is to get the stadium fully open again."

• Oxford Stadium in Sandy Lane

"They can either do that by selling it or putting in a long lease."

"We need to have someone owning and running the stadium who really believes in its future."

Oxford Stadium closed as a greyhound track in December 2012 and hosted speedway until 2008.

GRA Acquisition Ltd challenged the council's ruling on four counts, all of which the judge rejected.

The company argued the land was not 'an area' and there was nothing special about the stadium that could make it worth protecting.

It was also argued that the officer's report was significantly misleading and the purpose of designating it as a conservation area was to frustrate development proposals.

City council leader Bob Price said: "We are very pleased the High Court has dismissed the challenge from the developers."

"The Court found the designation process had been carried out in a thorough and exemplary manner which met all the statutory requirements."

Spokesperson for Galliard Homes Madeleine Flower said: "We are considering the judgement to determine our options."

The Guardian attempted to contact GRA Acquisition Ltd but there was no response.

Bottle attack

OXFORD: Two men have been arrested after a man was bottled at a bus stop in Cowley on January 11.

At around 3.30am, a man and his partner were walking along Barns Road when they were approached by a man and a woman waiting at a bus stop opposite Templars Square Shopping Centre.

They asked the couple for money, and when they refused, the man hit the other man over the head with a bottle.

A fight then broke out between the two, and the man with the bottle ran off down an alleyway.

Both men required hospital treatment after the altercation.

The two men who have been arrested on suspicion of grievous bodily harm, aged 53 and 41, have been bailed until February 18.

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to call police on 101.

Clean campaign

OXFORD: The city council's Cleaner, Greener Oxford campaign launched in Wood Farm on Monday.

A team of people will tackle litter, dog fouling and recycling issues over the next fortnight, as well as improving the surrounding area and focusing on problem hotspots.

It comes after similar campaigns have been launched in Blackbird Leys, Jericho, Barton and Cowley.

Hero horse Albert set for retirement

• Albert the horse

A POLICE horse who spent a decade working at demonstrations, town centres and football matches across the Thames Valley is set to retire.

Albert, an 18-year-old Irish draught cross thoroughbred, had been working for Thames Valley Police since 2005.

His tasks included fighting off angry protestors at political rallies and protecting the royal family.

In November he was named runner-up in the RSPCA and Daily Mirror's Animal Hero Awards.

But Albert is set to pack it all in at the end of February, and will retire to The Horse Trust in Speen, Buckinghamshire.

PC Andy Barkus, who trained Albert for the first 12 months of his career, said: "Albert has been an absolute servant, absolutely brilliant."

"The feeling for me is that I am pleased for Albert, rather than missing him being here."

"He has served the public for a decade and now he is getting the chance for a bit of a chill out and holiday, and we can always go and see him at The Horse Trust."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

The Woman in Black

REGARDED as one of the most gripping pieces of theatre in recent years, The Woman in Black is being performed at the Oxford Playhouse until January 31.

Written by Susan Hill in 1983, the novel focuses on Arthur Kipps, a lawyer who has been sent to the eerie Crythin Gifford in the North East of England to attend the funeral of Alice Drablow.

When leaving London for the north, he notices a series of strange events where a certain woman wearing nothing but black appears in secluded parts of Crythin Gifford.

Malcolm James, who plays Arthur Kipps in the critically acclaimed production, told the Guardian: "I saw the play in the West End five years ago and just knew I wanted to be in it."

"Apart from being a great piece of theatre it is also a wonderful challenge for a character actor like me, as I get to play seven different people."

He added: "This has a fantastic and involving story, a superbly well-crafted piece of play-writing and a scary evening in the best traditions of ghost stories."

"And above all, audience imagination creates something to linger in the memory and maybe cause a few sleepless nights!"

Malcolm isn't a stranger to the historic streets of Oxford, as the 58-year old performer studied modern history at Magdalen College from 1974 to 1977.

The veteran actor performed in 13 plays during his time at the Oxford college, which included a couple at the Burton Taylor Studio in Gloucester Street, Oxford.

"I am thrilled to be back in town and at the theatre," Malcolm said.

"It was during those last days as a student that I finally decided I wanted to pursue an acting career, so to be back on those boards again - a mere 38 years later - means, I think, that I made a go of it!"

"Though I have been back occasionally over the years, my acting career has always missed out on the Playhouse until now."

Tickets for the Beaumont Street production cost from £14 to £30, with the performance suitable for anyone over the age of 12.

For further information or to book tickets, call the box office on 01865 305305 or visit the website, oxford-playhouse.com.

Folk at the Cornerstone

CRITICALLY acclaimed Scottish folk group Southern Tenant Folk Union will be at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on February 13, as part of their UK tour 'The Chuck Norris Project'.

The group, which was formed back in 2006 by five-string banjo player Pat McGarvey, is currently venturing on a tour around Britain throughout January and February, before heading to Ireland in March promoting their latest collection of hits.

"The audience can expect an eclectic mix of up-tempo bluegrass, atmospheric folk, anecdotes and Irish fiddle tunes," Pat told the Guardian.

"There will also be highlights of our previous six albums and a full explanation of the reasoning behind our latest albums unusual title."

He added: "We haven't performed at Cornerstone before."

"I've been pestering them for years now and have finally worn them down to the point where they've capitulated."

"Certainly we're excited to be playing there as I've heard the performance space is perfect for the sort of all acoustic music we do."

Since their formation nine years ago, Southern Tenant Folk Union have released six albums which have all scooped positives reviews.

Their 2013 album 'Hello Cold Goodbye

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Sun' is currently the group's most successful album, which reached number one in the UK Americana Chart.

The group also won 'Americana Artist of the Year' at the British Country Music Awards in October 2010, and have also performed on The Andrew Marr Show.

When asked about the level of success the group have achieved, Pat said: "I didn't dare hope that we'd get on national radio and TV, get great reviews and be so well thought of."

"I never had any of those sorts of expectations when I started out - it was just something I naturally had an inclination for that became my job."

Tickets for show at the Station Road venue cost from £13.50 to £15, and starts at 8pm.

Go to cornerstone-arts.org or call 01235 515144 for more information.

Harmonica harmonies

REGARDED as one of the best harmonica players in recent times, Will Pound and his trusty band will be making their way to the Wychwood Folk Club in Chipping Norton this Saturday, February 7.

The Will Pound Band, which consists of Chris Sarjeant, Henry Webster, John Parker and founder Will Pound, is preparing to embark on their first ever UK tour.

It starts on January 31 in Scotland, and will finish in Wigan on March 6.

"Hopefully we won't kill each other, as we will be in the van for a while!" Will told the Guardian.

"However we are all looking forward to people hearing our music, as we feel it's refreshing."

"This will be my first visit to the Wychwood Folk Club and I'm looking forward to it."

Before forming the band, the 27-year old from Rugby enjoyed a very successful solo career.

His debut album 'A Cut Above', which was released in 2013, received positive reviews from critics and topped the HMV Folk Chart last April.

In 2012, the musician was nominated for Musician Of The Year at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards.

In the same year he played the harmonica in The Hillsborough Single,

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

which featured Sir Paul McCartney, Beverley Knight and many other well-known musicians.

The single would later become the year's Christmas Number One.

"I did a solo album a couple of years ago and I wanted to set up a band to play some of the music from that record," Will said.

"However, since then it's become a totally equal quartet in terms of ideas, music and future projects. I feel this is the best way to gain the best music from everyone."

He added: "My dad gave me a harmonica when I was about 10 to help me with my breathing as a result of having open heart surgery as a young child, and I don't really listen to other harmonica players."

"Not because I don't like what they do, but because I believe you need to listen to other instruments to gain other/new techniques."

The gig in Shipton Road, Chipping Norton will start at 8pm with tickets costing from £10 to £12.

For more information about the show, call 01993 831427.

PADDINGTON
Perennial children's favourite Paddington Bear finally makes his big screen debut in this delightful blend of live action and CGI. When polite Paddington Bear arrives in London from the Peruvian jungle, he's adopted by Mr and Mrs Brown, but it isn't long before he attracts the attentions of a sinister taxidermist! A top notch Brit cast of Jim Broadbent, Julie Walters and Hugh Bonneville.

SAM BAILEY
Sam Bailey stole the hearts of a nation on X Factor and since winning her feet have barely touched the ground. Having wowed fans up and down the country headlining the X Factor Tour earlier this year Sam is set to embark on her very own tour throughout January and February 2015. The former prison officer has experienced dreams becoming reality, including an incredible No. 1 with her single Skyscraper, supporting Beyonce on tour, performing with her idol Michael Bolton at the National Television Awards and now her own headline tour.

"I've been performing since I was 15 but I never got to where I wanted to be. Then real life, needing to pay bills, marriage and children happened and you just put everything on hold. X Factor gave a woman like me a chance. It gave me my confidence back, it gave me music back, and this is for all those people out there who believed in me!"

Sam Bailey has recently reissued her number one debut album The Power Of Love 2014. The Power of Love features a stunning collection of covers and brand new tracks, all performed with those self assured, spine-tingling vocals that set the country on fire. Her massive hit single Skyscraper, appears alongside her triumphant duet, And I Am Telling You, with Nicole Scherzinger. The album also features five brand new songs - three Christmas themed tracks: Silent Night, O Holy Night and Please Come Home for Christmas along with an alternative version of original track Treasure and an electrifying version of With You, taken from Ghost - The Musical.

NOISES OFF
"Described as one of the funniest comedies ever written, University of Oxford students perform Michael Frayn's award-winning play within a play, Noises Off. A mediocre cast and overworked stage crew can't stop director Lloyd's production of "Nothing On" going ahead, despite forgotten lines, missed entrances, a whisky-loving actor and disruptive love triangle. Revealing backstage turmoil and onstage bedlam, Noises Off cleverly follows the play's shambolic blunderings from both the audience's perspective and behind the scenes in this superbly-written farce."

History in the making for Ford as they release their iconic roadster in the UK Mustang makes it to Britain

THIS month marked a special moment in automotive history as customers in the UK were, for the first time ever, able to order the new Ford Mustang more than 50 years after the iconic vehicle first went into production.

Originally brought out five months before the 1965 production year, the first generation Ford Mustang was introduced to the world at the 1964 New York World's Fair.

Since then, six generations of the well recognisable car have been launched, with the latest edition having a well equipped 314bhp 2.3 litre EcoBoost engine or a 418bhp 5.0-litre V8 engine.

The latest edition of the Ford family comes with a whole host of new features, which includes 19-inch wheels, a performance brake package, automatic HID xenon headlights, LED tail lights and a rear diffuser.

Further standard equipment includes dual-zone climate control, a nine-speaker sound system and SYNC 2 voice control connectivity with an eight-inch colour touch screen.

"There has never been a better time to introduce this iconic car across Europe," Ford of Europe's vice president of marketing, sales and service Roelant de Waard said.

"The all-new Ford Mustang is the most modern, technologically advanced and forward-looking Mustang in the amazing history of the marque.

"Being able to specify a Mustang that reflects your individual character has always been a key part of the model's appeal.

"With our new app, customers will be able to see exactly how the all-new Mustang could look outside their house, and as a part of their life."

In addition to the new features, Smartphone and tablet users can see and share exactly how their chosen Mustang could look, using a new augmented reality app that places the car in the setting of their choice.

The new Ford Mustang fastback and convertible models are available to order from Ford stores.

They are priced from £28,995.

Brave Welsh come close to first victory

LONDON Welsh's winless campaign continued last Sunday despite pushing French side Lyon all the way in their final European Rugby Challenge Cup pool game.

Late tries from Rob Lewis and Koree Britton set up a grandstand finish at the Kassam Stadium but the Top 14 side snuck over the line with a 17-12 victory.

The Exiles have now lost 21 successive matches this season, with their last competitive win coming in the play-off final against Bristol last June.

Last Sunday's bonus point defeat saw the Exiles finish bottom of pool four with one point, with Edinburgh and Lyon advancing to the quarterfinals.

Welsh return to Aviva Premiership action on February 15 but LV=Cup ties against Saracens and Newport Gwent Dragons await them over the next fortnight.

At the weekend, Lyon looked to be coasting to a comfortable victory after tries from Thibaut Regard, Lachie Munro and Damien Fitzpatrick.

However, a late charge saw the Exiles close to within five points and a converted try of ending their winless run but Lyon held on to claim victory.

The French side were on the front foot early on with Chris Elder forced to concede a five-metre scrum, but Eugene Nzi's try was ruled out for a double movement.

But the reprieve was only short as Regard collected a chip over the top and went over the white-wash before Munro ghosted over in the corner after a turnover ball.

Two tries in the space of four minutes sparked the Exiles into life but despite forcing their way to the corner they were unable to push over the line.

Welsh were forced to settle for a ten-point deficit at the break but after half-time errors began to set in.

And with the Exiles pinned in their 22, hooker Fitzpatrick accepted an offload and burst through to score Lyon's third try which Munro converted for 17-0.

With 20 minutes to go the introduction of Elliot Kear injected new life into the Exiles and it was his break that created Welsh's first score.

• Rob Lewis scored London Welsh's first try during the 17-12 defeat to Lyon (picture by Martin John)

The former rugby league star found a gap and released James Lewis before Eddie Aholelei's through the legs pass fed Rhys Crane.

The winger had Lewis on his inside shoulder and the scrum-half went over the line with Tristan Roberts adding the extras.

Welsh suddenly had renewed purpose and after Aholelei was hauled down short of the try line, Britton had the power to force his way over in the corner.

With the French side up against it, the Exiles were galvanised and worked their way to Lyon's 22 in the final minute.

However, the visitors were awarded a scrum and a subsequent penalty saw an end to Welsh's brave late effort.

City slip to defeat against Worcester

OXFORD City have slipped seven points adrift of the Vanarama Conference North play-off places after their poor run of form continued last weekend.

Justin Merritt's side were beaten 1-0 by Worcester City last Saturday and are now 12th in the table.

City haven't won since New Year's Day and are on a five-match winless run in all competitions.

Wayne Thomas scored the only goal of the game last weekend on the hour after he volleyed home from close range.

Merritt's side had created the better chances but it was Worcester who emerged victorious and recorded their first win of the calendar year.

Next up for City is Tamworth at Marsh Lane on Saturday.

The Lambs are third in the table, seven points behind league leaders AFC Fylde.

Saturday will mark Tamworth's first ever visit to Marsh Lane in the 80-year history of the club.

Britton praises coach Phillips

LONDON Welsh hooker Koree Britton has hailed the impact of defensive coach Rowland Phillips.

The Exiles are still winless this season but the 22-year-old believes Phillips has added a defensive resolve to the squad.

Phillips, a former London Welsh player and Wales international, joined as a coach in November.

Britton said: "You can definitely see there has been a difference (since Phillips' arrival).

"I personally feel it has affected the scoreline and the way the boys are playing in a defensive structure.

"It has helped masses and with him playing at Welsh when he was in his days it is a real honour for him to do that as well I think."

London Welsh are in LV=Cup action this Sunday and welcome Saracens to the Kassam Stadium.

Britton added: "It will be a massive challenge.

"They have got quality players but they are not always going to perform at their best and they may slip up.

"We have just got to relish that and make the most of what we can."

PREMIERSHIP RUGBY IN OXFORD - BE PART OF IT

Roberts upbeat after scoring last-gasp goal

JAMES Roberts believes his injury-time equaliser against Exeter City on Saturday will give Oxford United a much-needed boost ahead of this weekend's trip to Stevenage.

Alex Nicholls' 88th minute header looked to have condemned United to a fourth successive league defeat, but 18-year-old Roberts struck in the 92nd minute to earn a 2-2 draw.

It even emerged that Roberts, who has been struggling with a hamstring injury since the beginning of the month, did not expect to be involved on Saturday but was named on the bench.

United moved up a place to 16th in Sky Bet League Two and are now four points above the relegation zone.

Roberts said: "It's a huge goal, you can't even put it into words."

"We thought it was going to be another one of those days but we dug our feet in.

"We talk a lot in the changing room about stepping stones and this is a platform to go onto the next one."

He continued: "You can't win every game and I know we have not won as many as we should have done this season but it feels like a win."

"It is a massive momentum boost for us."

Danny Hylton volleyed United into an 18th minute lead but Arron Davies managed to fire Exeter level eight minutes before half-time.

And the visitors looked to have won it on 88 minutes through Nicholls' header but Roberts had other ideas and earned Oxford a share of the spoils.

Seven of Saturday's 18-man squad came through United's academy with teenager Josh Ashby making his professional debut in the centre of midfield.

And head coach Michael Appleton praised Oxford's young guns.

He said: "The young lads that have come in have done fantastically well."

"I think there will be a lot of Oxford fans looking forward to the future because we had some really good young talent out there."

United also revealed their first addition of the January transfer window last weekend with defender Joe Skarz being unveiled before the game.

The 25-year-old was released by Sky Bet Championship club Rotherham United last week and United were quick to snap him up.

Appleton added: "He will be a great addition."

"Fortunately from our point of view he sees the potential within the football club and he wants to be a part of that."

On Monday it was announced defender Tom Newey had left the club by mutual consent.

The 32-year-old had been on loan at Northampton Town since October and joined the Cobblers permanently on Tuesday.

City Stars grab vital point from weekend fixtures

OXFORD City Stars are back off the bottom of the National Ice Hockey League 1 table after picking up a crucial point in a 2-2 draw with London Raiders.

The weekend had started badly for Stars as they were beaten 9-5 away to Invicta Dynamos on Saturday, in a game the visitors had been winning with 13 minutes left on the clock.

Three goals in two minutes put Dynamos ahead, before Evan Mackintosh got the score back to 5-4.

But Invicta scored four late goals to take the win, although Stars did manage to pull one back in the dying moments.

Sunday's match with Raiders was more successful for the Stars, which saw Mackintosh back on the scoresheet as his goal came just 77 seconds into the game.

Jacob Ranson soon levelled for the Raiders, before Alan Green shot from a tight angle to put Stars back ahead.

The Raiders again equalised, this time with Tom Davis, towards the end of the second period.

It made for a nervy end to the match, but Stars held on to earn themselves a point and jump above Cardiff Devils in the standings.

And it is the Devils that the Stars face in their next match, taking place at their Oxpens home on Sunday.

Still no luck for Ardley at home

IT was another disappointing weekend for Ardley United as they were beaten 2-1 at home to Holyport in the Hellenic Premier Division on Saturday afternoon.

Tom Bryan had scored first for Ardley, but two late goals from Tom Kaill condemned the hosts to a fourth straight defeat at home.

And there was no luck for Oxford City Nomads at the weekend either, as they were easily beaten 3-0 by Brimscombe and Thrupp.

Elsewhere, Milton United and Kidlington were involved in a goalless draw, while Shrivenham tied 1-1 with Bracknell Town.

Following Saturday's results, Kidlington remain second in the standings after Saturday's matches with 60 points, while Ardley are in seventh position with 44 points.

Milton United sit 13th, Nomads 14th and Shrivenham 19th out of 20 sides in the division.

This Saturday's games sees Ardley travel to Bracknell Town, Nomads make the trip to Cheltenham Saracens, Shrivenham visit Highmoor Ibis, while Kidlington host Newbury.

Williams F1 announce new development driver for 2015

WILLIAMS Martini Racing have announced GP3 champion Alex Lynn as their development driver ahead of the upcoming Formula One season.

The 21-year-old from Essex will be using the team's simulator to help prepare the car for each race.

He will also be assisting with the ongoing development of the FW37 over the season.

And Lynn will get the chance to drive the car for one day of testing in Barcelona following the Spanish Grand Prix in May.

"I am extremely excited to be joining Williams, a team with such incredible history and amazing potential," said Lynn.

"Over the past year the team has made huge strides forward and it's clear to see their determination to fight for more success in the future."

During the 2015 season Lynn will also be competing in the GP2 championship - seen by many as the feeder series to Formula One.

Claire Williams, deputy team principal of Williams Martini Racing, said: "As a British team we are always on the lookout for emerging home-grown talent and Alex has caught our eye with his impressive performances in GP3."

"Alex will help play an important role in making sure that the FW37 shows continuous improvement over the course of the 2015 season."

Appleton hopeful of making new signings

OXFORD United head coach Michael Appleton says it could be a big week for the club as he looks to bolster his side during the last few days of the January transfer window.

United have made one signing so far this month while four players have left the club.

After defender Joe Skarz signed last Saturday, Appleton hinted at further activity in the window this week.

He said: "If we can bring in the additions that we are certainly working very hard with it could be a big week for Oxford United."

"We are in a lot of discussions with three players that I hope will come in the building this week."

"They will answer all the questions every Oxford United fan has got."

On Tuesday, the Peterborough Telegraph revealed that striker Tyrone Barnett had rejected personal terms with United.

Peterborough have agreed a transfer fee for the 28-year-old, who scored six goals in 12 starts while on loan at Oxford earlier this season.

LOTUS F1 REVEAL 2015 CHALLENGER

ENSTONE-BASED Lotus F1 have revealed the car they hope will power them to glory in this year's Formula One world championship.

Pictures of the E23 Hybrid were unveiled online on Monday, ahead of the start of the first pre-season test at the Spanish circuit of Jerez on Sunday.

The team will be hoping for a better 2015 after enduring a miserable season last year, which saw drivers

Romain Grosjean and Pastor Maldonado pick up just 10 points.

Nick Chester, technical director of Lotus F1, said: "It's no secret that we struggled with last year's car so we've targeted every area that caused us an issue."

"We've made strong progress in the wind tunnel as well as in areas such as packaging and cooling, so we expect the E23 to perform far, far better than its predecessor."

"We won't know how our car will fare in relative terms until we're out in action at a grand prix, but we certainly expect to be much more competitive than last year."

Lotus have a new engine supplier for 2015 - their car set to be powered by a Mercedes unit, bringing to an end a 14 year association with Renault.

Mercedes were considered to have had the best engines last year, with the works team comfortably winning both titles.

Lotus CEO Matthew Carter said: "The E23 Hybrid represents a new era for Lotus, not only in the change to a Mercedes power unit, but also it is the fruition of a busy winter behind the scenes."

"As a team we are confident that the new car, coupled with additions to the race team, will enable a huge leap forward and we are full of optimism going into the new season."

"It is time to put the disappointment of last season behind us and benefit from 12 months of hard work, and we are ready to return to our rightful place at the pinnacle of the sport."

The first race of the season is at the Albert Park circuit in Melbourne, Australia, on March 15.
